

Little Woolden Moss

The Wildlife Trust for Lancashire
Manchester &
North Merseyside

Little Woolden Moss, Spring 2024

Little Woolden Moss during peat extraction
2008

Little Woolden Moss
reserve page
Scan to learn more

Little Woolden Moss

Bog pool at Little Woolden Moss

Little Woolden Moss was an ex-peat extraction site that has been gradually restored by the Trust for nearly 15 years, turning the once barren landscape back to a carbon capturing bog habitat full to the brim with wildlife.

The nature reserve is an outstanding example of the possibilities of peatland habitat restoration, exceeding where others thought the peat depth was too shallow to bring life back to the bog. The reserve is used